

30-Double-Days
Umwelt & Klima Live-Show

TERMS AND CONDITIONS ORGANIZATIONS AND ASSOCIATIONS

A union of like-minded organizations and associations for the benefit and Protection of the environment, climate, animals, and population. Instead of being in competition, work together through this project „30-Double-Days“ and form the world’s largest community. Every organization and every association are equally valuable.

No. 1 The advantages for every organization and club:

Income from donations

Donations, which we receive because of the broadcast of our „30-Double-Days“ by participating in the community (min. EUR 1, --/person), are connected to the connected organizations and associations. Here our distribution key applies (more the more members the respective organization or association has, the larger is the part of the donation forwarding).

Image

- In association with the „30-Double-Days“ the reputation (transparency and trust) increases. This community stands for our slogan „We Are One for the Planet“, with which our philosophy, - we are working together with other organizations and Associations work together to protect and celebrate our environment and climate. Together in alliance (partners and community) we are strong. Together we can we more efficiently and effectively promote and make our project known.
- All organizations and associations get access to our blog and may publish your own information, plans, projects, and events.
- Organizations and Associations, which are widely known, receive in a or if necessary, in several live show’s speaker time. We invite the speaker of the organization or the association to participate as a guest in the live shows and to promote your own organization/club.

Contribute

- Own or affiliated scientists, researchers or specialists of Organizations and clubs receive in one or possibly in several live shows speaker time, whereby we assign these scientists, researchers or specialists to invite you to discuss one of our topics with your colleagues, or to develop solutions.
- Furthermore, these contributors will be invited to our annual symposium where we will work with our colleagues to prepare for the annual environmental and Climate Change Conference. Participants of the symposium are equally an important part of the environment and climate congress and an important voice the essay of the joint petitions.
